LINCOLN'S WATER PROOF BLACKING, AND LEATHER PRESERVATIVE.

Keep your Feet dry and you will seldom need a Physician.

IS it not a truth that when the feet are often wet, it is one of the greatest causes of colds and consumption? It is a truth that when leather is often wet and dried, it soon becomes hard, stiff, and rotten; but when its water-proof pores are rendered.
By the application of this preservative, it remains soft, and entirely impervious to water.
After being engaged for 25 years in the manufacture of leather in all its branches, and being often troubled with wet feet myself, I was led to experimenting on different compositions, and found it easy to make it water-proof, but at the same time extremely injurious to the leather. At last by a chemical process, I discovered a preparation which perfectly harmonizes with the astringent properties with which leather is tanned; it will not only make leather water-proof, but it likewise softens the leather, and it will Positively wear twice as long
I have now used it for three years, and a large part of that time have worked in a wet tannery, with my boots constantly in water, and have not had my feet wet during that time. I can therefore in all confidence, recommend it to the public as the best article in the market.

WORLD'S BLESSING!

RHEUMATIC, NEURALGIC & SPINAL BALM.—Made of Dr. Howard's Discov- ery.—A son of Mr. L. Colbroth has been suffering for the last two or three weeks with a severe case of Rheumatism—so much so that he was prostrated, and was unable to move himself in bed; and his friends considered him dangerously sick. Dr.
J. B. N. Gould, of Boston, has discovered a remedy, for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Spinal Disease, arrived in town on Saturday, and has taken rooms at the Elm House. The Doctor was called on to treat him, and in one hour from the time he applied the Rheumatic Balm he was able to leave his bed and walk his room, and is now free from rheumatism. This is indeed a wonderful discovery. From the Eastern Argus,

The Latest Specimen of a "Fair" Election

When the Free S ate men of Kansas were debat g the question whether they should take part in the election ordered by the Lecompton Convention, the democratic papers denounced the opponents of that po icy as desirous only of keeping up the d fficulty, and preventing a settlement The whole matter would be quieted, they said if the Free State men w ald but go into the elec on The Pres ident had ordered troops to protect the voters and prove it outrages and to enable the Free State men to prevent frauds They could se cure the r Legislature, and then amend the C nstitution

Now, lay ng aside the troublesome fact that oaths were to be required of the voters to support the pro s avery constitution, and that the very circums stance of tak ng part in the elec tion would be afterwards alleged as an en corsement of the c nstitution or an admission of its legal origin,—what has the result shown as to the fairness of the election or as to the measures wh ch were to be taken to prevent frauds? Was there any probability that the voice of the people could prova ? Not much—as facts a ow demo s r t Mo e or mous frauds have never been commi ted at any e ect on than were committed at the elec — t on of January 4th—and yet to be committed in mak ng bogus returns if they are found necessary for the defeat of the Free State tick e. It is now said t at this ticket is e ected—and the returns repor ed show it. But Calhoun, it is said will wait for more—the character of which cannot be doubted. Oxford and McGee returns enough non ex ly be made ufac ured to ove whelm any amount of Free Sta e majorit es wh ch were a ually known Already fraudulent pro slavery returns to the amount of more than three thousand votes have been reported Such r turns as 884 pro slavery majority in Kickapoo 800 in Doniphan coun y, 1900 in Joh nston county, 864 in Shawnee &c, are gravely publ sh ed in the Democrat c column by the Boston Post and othe democratic papers, as gen uine and for ar ro turns

As a spec men of the manner in which these dem ocratic majorit es were rolled up, take the following account of the vot ng at Ki kapoo Tha re arkable precinct has about 250 to 300 legal vo ers In October it returned a m jority of 298 for t e Democratic ticket, and on the 21st ult , a m jority of 1017 for t e Lecompton const tution

Troops were sent there, ostensibly to secure fair play at the election on the 4th —but the commanding officer would not station them near the polls wi en the Free State men asked him to do i , that they migh have pro ection in challeng ng illegal vo ers and preventing frauds Co sequently the election was carried on in the fo lowing beautiful st le, as related by the Leavenwo th Times

We th nk nearly every legal vote was polled before one o clock. There were some fo ty or fifty men who d d the double voting, and frequen ly the same man, after voting to s), ran ed with a ten minutes under a new name and voted again Boys not over fourteen years of age voted and one of them said he'd yes at Kickapoo always vote A crowd of Force men who had vo ed left the town in the af er noon, and said they were go ng on a mean ing of course, to Missouri We th nk here were about fifty Missourians voted here

In t s way there were given legal and fraudulent about four to five hundred votes The vote as announced however, at t e closing of the polls, was 905 The poll books could only show that number by inserting four or five hundred names not given by voters — There was no rapid vo ing—there being free quent intervals of fifteen minutes, when scarcely a vote was p sted A squad would come to the polls scatter throug the crowd, vote, and re urn to the grog shops Until the next squad came up, scarcely a t cket would be prese ted At these intervals the book was so comple ely a desk, that a judge of the elect on (Wm Frankl n) repeatedly called out 'more vo es!' when they would pour from the grog shops and rally again to the pol s

The polls were open seven and a half hours, hav g been c osed an hour at noon, and closing finally at half past six o clock Exactly at a quar er past four, one of the judges an ou nced to the commanding officer, Cap ain Brown the 407 votes were polled At five minu es before s x, the commanding officer by request made a query again and was told by the judge here were eight hundred and sixty-four polled From that unt l the close there were but nine voters, and the aggregate was then announ ced as 905 From a quar er past four unt l the close there were certainly not more than 30 vo es polled, so that the aggregate announced could only be made up by an enormous official fraud

A Rare Celestial Phenomenon. A large circle, about thirty degrees in diameter, made its appearance around the sun to day, between ten and eleven o clock In its circumference were three distinct coronæ or mock suns, two of which, situated one upon the east side, and the other exactly opposite upon the west s de of the sun were so bright as to dazzle the eye, and exhibi ted the colors of the rainbow The c rcumference of the circle was very bright at times, and also displayed rainbow colors It was an exhibi ion as beauti ul as it was rare Gradually fading away, about one o clock it disappeared. The Remaining Veterans of the War of 1812.

MR. EDITOR: At this juncture, with a bill before Congress providing Pensions for the surviving officers and soldiers of the War of 1812, and t he widows or heirs of those deceased, the following extract from a letter wr tten by Gen'l Isaac Hodsdon of Exeter, upon this subject, to John L. Hodsdon, Esq., of this city, seems to be appropriate, and affords an unanswerable argument in favor of the immediate passage of the bill if over,

It is proper to add, that Gen Hodsdon was a Captain in the 33d Regiment of U. S Infantry during the War of 1812

"I have never doubted, that at some fu ure time, when nearly a l the officers and soldiers of the War of 1812 are dead, Congress would pass a Pension Law, for the few remaining alive

"That period seems not far distant, in view of the diminution by death, of the number of fortunate recipients of the Nation's munificat ed Bounty

"Of six officers who were of the garrison under my command in 1813, I am the only survivor

"The first Pension Law, for the benefit of Revolutionary officers and soldiers, (which was exc edingly str ngent and limited in its operation) was passed by Congress in 1818, thir y-five years after the Treaty of Peace

"Nearly forty three years have elapsed since the army of 1812 was disbanded on the 15 h of June 1815

"It is ever seriously intended to grant Pensions, to those who served in that War it would seem that the time had nearly arrived to do it.

"In the first company that I commanded in the war of 1812 my 1st Lieut and seven of my privates, were Revolutionary soldiers, all of whom are now dead

"A large proportion of the few survivors of the army of 1812 are suffering from physical disabilities incurred by reason of the fatigues and privations inse arable from their du ies and the insufficient supply of their most necessary wants,

"It is impossible for the present generation in those days of railroad and steamboat transportation, to conceive of the difficulty ar d difficulties a tendant upon the movement of bodies of troops for g distances, during the War of 1812

"The poverty of the Government, and consequent extreme scarcity of money, and therefore inevitable inefficiency of the Quarter Master and Commissary Departments, rendered the du ies of the troops most arduous, and the supply of their necessary wants insufficient.

Gen Hodsdon is now 78 years old and enjoying tolerable health He was exceeding y harrassed during the War of 1812, and after its close, by proceedings against him in the Courts of New Hampshire, for alleged tor tempt of the authority and process of said Courts

These proceedings, which Mr. Whittlesey Chairman of the Congressional Committee on Cla ms in 1824, pronounced "most extraordinary, illegal, vexatious and oppressive, arose from the endeavor to rescue from his custody certain l dy duels who were taken in the attempt to furnish suppl es to the English army Gen Hosedon was reimbursed by the 19th Congress (House Report No 8) the amount of money actually expended in payment of fines and costs, and expenses pa d on account of the same, but remains unremunerated for his personal services, and time occupied therein there being th n, no precedent for such allowance

NORTHERN TRAVEL, Summer and Winter Pictures of Swede , Denmark and Lapland By Bayard Taylor New York G P Put nam 1858

The public will receive th s new volume o Mr Taylor s Letters, with a hearty welcome No traveller has ever observed with a more discriminating eye or recorded his observations in a more pleasant and graph c style He has a faculty rarely equalled of presenting the pleasant side of things and of giving life like p ctures of the manners and customs of the people and of the scenery and interesting characteristics of the countries visited by him It is a peculiarity of Mr Taylor that he seeks his informat on among the people themselves, in their every day life and pursuits, and therefore obtains far more correct and reliable information than most other travellers He thus gives us a better insight of the true condition of a country or a people than can be derived from any ponderous history of their governments and politics In all histories so called— and nearly all books of travel the authors describe to us the governmental oppressions, the public edifices, the great natural features and the customs of the country, and think this is sufficient—they let the people, who are the real nation, pass almost without notice

The letters in th s volume of Bayard Taylor s travels embrace his observations of the most interesting reg ons of Northern Europe—regions which are comparatively unknown to great mass of our people His descriptions o these countr es, and of their people are full of info rmat on—and the volume is perhaps more interes ting than any of the kind which has preceded it.

THE CASE OF MANY A democratic editor in Ohio who enjoys at the same time the honors and emoluments of a Postmaster s commission, defines his pos tion as below His case is the case of many, though few have the frankness to avow it

"For my own part my brethren, although I have full faith in Judge Douglas and fully believe in the doctrine of po ular sovereignty, I am not having a due regard to my position, as an off er under the federal government, as well as a profou d respect for the American eagle and the income of my office, as a matter of expediency I shall support the President.

SUMMARY DISCHARGE OF A PRISONER The papers tell a good story of a recent scene in the Police Court room of Brooklyn It was discovered that an Irishman who had been arraigned and convicted for beating his wife and was smiting, with a number of other prisoners, awaiting sentence, had the small pox, which was breaking out with great virulence all over his face A general stampede at once commenced, while those not aware of the cause of the commo ion imagined the building on fire, and shouted lustily The clerk, dis overing the trouble, turned gastly white, and then made a somerset out of the window at the imminent risk of breaking his neck The judge, thinking the building was falling, went after the clerk in a most undignified manner, while the deputy sheriff and other officers climbed the posts and took refuge among the rafters The sight, says the New York Express was laughable in the extreme. The poor Irishman was forced out of the door and bidden to clear away, and never to return — As no one would venture back, the co rt was pronounced to stand adjourned

HORRIBLE CASE OF WIFE BEATING IN NEW YORK The New York Evening Post records a brutal case of wife beating, in that city which is likely to result in the death of the victim — It seems that one Jean de Richard, a Frenchman, keeper of a grocery at the corner of 10th Avenue and 26th Street, where he also lives, recently became bail for a fr end who ran away, and he was obliged to pay the bail The affair exasperated him, and in his vexation he imbibed freely, and finally went home determined it would seem to avenge himself upon his wife He accordingly assaulted her, knocked her down and kicked and beat her with the most shocking and brutal violence Her screams were so loud that they attracted the attention of numerous pers ns, who listened under the windows and believing that Richard was killing his wife, determined to interfere They accordingly attempted to go in, but Richard locked the door, and they did not deem it safe to proceed further, but went for the police The officers, upon arrival, being refused admittance, broke open the door and rushed in They found Richard standing with a revolver in his hand, over the prostrate body of his wife, who was covered with blood and wounds, and who, with scarcely audible voice, was begging the brutal man to spare her life No sooner had the officers entered than Richard raised his revolver and fired at officer Dean — The ball passed through his overcoat, but fortunately struck one of the brass buttons of his uniform, and glanced off without injuring him But for this fortunate accident, the shot would have been fatal, Instantly before the officers had time to fire another shot, one of the officers knocked him down with his club, and he was arrested, and the woman was taken to the hospital, where her wounds were dressed, but her recovery is extremely doubtful

Sheriff Jones, of Kansas, the one who was killed on the abolitionists, last year, says there is no mistake about the returns of the last election, for they had fixed that up this time so that it would do any need They would use no Northern City Directories this time, but they had plenty of good Southern ones

A HORSE STORY.

A keeper of a hotel not fifty mil s from Boston, is or was a famous man for horses owning many, and was always ready for a trade in such cattle He was sharp at a bargain, and was never known to make a move that did not count on his side, until the following happened, that proved an exception to the rule He had ways had some particular horses on hand for every particular emergency of trade and the adroitness of his operations in putting off a beast, was a subject for delighted approval on all hands among connoisseurs of that delightful and much abused animal, the horse No one ever traded with Staffle that did not confess himself satisfied, though satisfaction is log a last ultimat word, did not alw ys mean that the satisfaction was the u timate of his pinch in the trade—like the same term in connection with the duello

There was a jolly cobbler whose name was Wax that occupi d a small shop near the hotel to whom Staffle was accustomed to refer in case of any sudden m a transaction, and he being a disinterested man, would d de on the matter of difference, always, however by what was decree a strange fatality, deciding in favor of Staffle Some, however went so far as to intimate that Staffle and the cobbler had talked t ge ther over previously and had certain signs by which they unders ood each other

When the stock came, then Staffle would say, "Well well we can't get along any further—Now I'm willi g to leave it to a third party, and as Mr Wax, around the c rner, knows the value of the horse I am ea y ping with you, he will be as good and candid an arbitrator as we can find and I guess I'll call him" Mr Wax would accordingly come out, leather apron and all, and, after looking at the matter candidly, would decide that Staffle receive a smart consideration as the difference in value, and this would settle it nine times in ten

One day there came along a stranger with a pretty g od horse, and it was once an object of Staffl s interest. He examined the horse in all his po nts, and determined to have him — The determination worked itself up to a positive fever next morning) and when the stranger s horse was led out to be harnessed Staffle stepped out and asked the owner, who was looking on, seeing that the harness was adjusted properly, if he didn t want to swap horses The stranger told him he hadn t the least objec ion, provided he could make a little something ou of it,

"Well," said Staff , "I m glad to hear you say so John, bring out the red colt.

The red colt was accordingly brought out — Its name was a misnomer It was one of those animals that, having been called a colt when legi ma ely ent tled to the a pellation, had forfeited at by the offence of age, and was now nearing under false colors The stranger looked at the "colt," and gave a whistle as he saw the discrepancy betwe n the title and the age "Well, said he at last, "how sha I we trade? What are you will ing to give to boot?"

"Boot!" said Staffle with feigned surprise, "the boo is on the other leg, I t ink"

"Ah said the man, "well, if you think so we will stop negotiation Good morni g"

"Hold on, cried Staff , "hold on—don't be in such a hurry Suppose I should offer you—say twenty five dollars—how would that please you?"

"It would not please me at all," was the reply "I shouldn't want to take less than eighty do lars."

"Well, said Staffle, "I can t do that; but I'll tell you what I will do—I'll leave it out to somebody

"Done," replied the stranger; "anything for a trade Whom will you leave it to? Somebody, I hope, that knows what a good horse is?"

"Never a better, sir," said Staffle, delightedly, "and here s just the man of all others that I would like to see, coming into the yard Good morning, Mr Wax"

Wax nodded good mo ning back again, and said so, and then stood with his hands under his apron looking at the horses

"Mr Wax, continued Staffle, "th s gentleman and myself a e about trading horses, and we want you to decide on the amount of boot that I am to pay him You know what an excellen horse the 'colt is and can judge by comparing the two, what the difference should be

"Mr Wax, are you a good judge of horses?" asked the stranger

Mr Wax nodded, and looked up into his face, as much as to say, "I should like to have you find a better one He then proceeded gravely to examine the two, and, after standing with his arms akimbo for some minutes, said—"I should think seventy five dollars would be about right"

"Good, said the stranger, "five dollars isn't much in a trade Give me seventy five dollars and take the horse

Staffle was red as a boot, and drawing out his pocket book, he counted out seventy five dollars and paid them over. The transfer was made in silence, and the stranger drove away After he had gone, Staffle turned to Wax, who stood there very s mil gly, saying—

"That was a devil of a trick you played me What was you thinking of? Didn't you understand t e 'colt was mine?

"Yes," replied Mr Wax, "but you didn't suspect that the other horse was mine, did you? I bought him yesterday on speculation" —Boston Saturday Gazette

AN OLD NURSE FOR CHILDREN —Don't be induced to use any of the Poisonous Quack Nostrums which are destroying the health and shortening the lives of so many children, but go at once to some druggist and get a bottle of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children it will cure cons pation of the bowels, regulate the stomach and relieve the child from pain, cure dysentery and diarrhœa, griping in the bowels and wind colic, and overcome convulsions, which if not speedily remedied end in death. We have no hesitation in saying and do say in the most positive manner, and have the certificates and references to the most respectable parties to prove what we say, that in no instance has it ever failed in effecting a cure when timely used Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it On the contrary all are delighted with its operations and speak in terms of highest commendation of its wonderful effects Such a thing as a failure is unknown to those who have once used it We do not hesitate to recommend it to the world that every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints will do well to procure a bottle and give it a trial and relief will be found to realize all we have said in its favor This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most experienced and skilful nurses in New England and has been used with never failing success in thousands of cases It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic, and by giving health to the child, comfort is secured to the mother Full directions for using will accompany each bottle None genuine unless the fac-simile of Cur tis & Perkins New York, is on the outside wrapper

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, 22th.

Senate not in session.

House.—Mr. Zollicoffer asked, but failed to obtain leave to introduce a resolution, calling upon the President to communicate all the information which gave rise to the Utah expedition; the instructions to its leaders, and all correspondence shedding light on the question, to show how far Brigham Young is in rebellion or resistance to the government of the United States.

The House went into committee on the private calendar, but without coming to any conclusion the committee soon rose.

Mr. Davis of Md., introduced a bill for the improvement of the Patapsco river, and to render the port of Baltimore accessible to the ships of war and steam frigates.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union, and the Invalid Pension Bill was taken up.

Mr. Billinghurst argued against the practicability of the Southern and in favor of the Northern Pacific Railroad route.

Mr. Warren asked him whether he would vote for the Southern route if the committee should report it as the cheapest and most practicable.

Mr. Billinghurst emphatically said he would not while the task of a Southern confederacy was before him. We wanted to know whether the South was to remain in the Union or not.

Mr. Warren replied, there was no such thing talked in his country as a Southern confederacy. He was a national man and as a Southerner, attached to Southern institutions, and would vote for any road connecting the Atlantic and Pacific.

Mr. Billinghurst said, that he did not hold Mr. Warren responsible for the disunion sentiments. When the gentleman denied that he was in favor of a Southern confederacy he must believe it, for a Southern confederacy was mediated, but a consolidated government, a regular Empire or something like it.

The committee then rose.

The Speaker appointed Mr. Purviance on the Special Committee to investigate Lawrence, Stone & Co.'s disbursements in place of Mr. Kunkel of Penn., who was excused, and Mr. Dawes and on the committee to investigate the conduct and accounts of the late Door-keeper in place of Mr Purviance excused.

The House then adjourned till Monday.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, 22.

John O. Barr of Ala., is appointed Consul to Melbourne Australia, vice Tarleton.

The British Post Office has made complaints that large numbers of newspapers containing wrong, are discovered in mails received from the United States, and according to the request made to our Post Office department the latter has directed the attention of Postmasters throughout the country to the necessity of enforcing the laws and regulations upon that subject, and enjoins them to protect the postal revenue from such illegal practices by exercising great care and diligence in future.

The British post office has also been requested to return to this country all newspapers, &c., illegally forwarded from the United States at printed rates, with the view to prosecute the senders, for the penalty of $5 for each offence.

Lieut. Gen. Scott, although not long since opposed to a movement from the Pacific side against the Mormons, is now anxious to organize a force in that quarter. He has not yet, however, received orders to do so.

The Senate's Committee on Foreign Relations will make a report on the President's Central American message on Monday. Several Senators are preparing themselves for the occasion, and a warm debate is anticipated.

New Orleans papers are to hand by the arrival of the mail as late as duo. They contain the details of the late storm of wind that passed over that city. The tornado was of about five minutes' duration, and came from the southwest. The shipping and steamboats suffered immense damage, and many lives were lost. The extent of damage in the interior by the storm has not been learned.

New York Items.

NEW YORK, 22.

Two men have been arrested on suspicion of having been concerned in the robbery of the National Bank, of this city a few days since, of a package containing $2,600. The money was taken of the counter while the bank was transacting its regular business. The parties arrested had $90,00 of the bills in their possession.

At an early hour this morning, fire broke out in the cabinet factory of Augustus Janson, 197 Christie street and destroyed the building with its contents. Buildings No. 245, 245 Bowery, and 9 Stanton street and a building known as Rocket Court, each occupied by a large number of persons were also burnt. The total loss is about $25,000—about $15,000 of which is covered by insurance.

New York Assembly.

ALBANY, 22.

The Assembly is still unorganized. Both Reilly the Democratic candidate, and Valkenburgh the Republican candidate for Speaker, were defeated by tib votes this afternoon.

Before the adjournment the general impression was that the Republicans and Americans would combine to-morrow and effect an organization.

There was intense excitement inside and outside the Hall.

Fire at Dubuque.

DUBUQUE, Jan. 22.

The St. Cloud Hotel was destroyed by fire last night. Loss estimated at $100,000; insured for $80,000. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

THE WRECK OF THE LYONNAIS.—The French Court at Aix has reversed the decision of the Tribunal of Commerce at Marseilles, that in the case of the collision between the French steamer Lyonnais and the American bark Adrielle, (which caused the foundering of the steamer and the loss of upwards of a hundred lives) the blame was on the part of the French captain, and the owners of the Lyonnais had no claim upon the American vessel for damages. The Court at Aix, on appeal, opened the judgment of the Tribunal of Commerce and ordered a report of experts, and after new pleadings entirely reversed the judgment, declaring that the collision was the fault of Capt. Durham, of the Adrielle, and condemned him to pay the damages with interest and costs. The principal reason assigned for this decree is that Capt. Durham sailed without duly applying lights in a foggy night, which, even in the absence of American regulations, constitutes a serious imprudence, and fixes responsibility upon the captain, to whatever nation he may belong. It will be remembered that the Adrielle, which was only slightly injured by the collision, subsequently sailed from Mobile with a cargo for La Ciotat, near Marseilles, and was seized upon arrival there, at the suit of the owners of the Lyonnais.

FLOUR,

Wheat Meal & Shorts,

The subscriber has commenced manufacturing FLOUR in one of the best Wheat growing sections of the West. His purchases of wheat are made by agents going among the farmers and selecting the choicest parcels of White Winter Wheat, for which no extra price is paid, rejecting all other kinds and all ordinary qualities. Attached to the Mill are all the latest improvements. The Wheat is thoroughly cleansed before grinding, and the Flour is double cooled before packing. The whole contents of the Wheat are transported to Bangor by Railroad, in Flour for four different qualities, an unbolted wheat meal, and in shorts. A car load, 100 bbls, will arrive weekly, so that customers can be supplied at all times with Flour and Meal, fresh ground within ten days. The meal is in bags, consequently not injured by packing 196 lbs. in a barrel as in the usual practice. This Flour and Meal will be found to have the fresh flavor of pure new Wheat, not having been heated in large piles or in granaries as is the case with nearly all the wheat manufactured in the large establishments for the large markets.

Dealers can be accommodated with a weekly supply on favorable terms, upon application to the subscriber, Office No 27 West Market Place.

MILLER'S

CONDITION POWDERS

For Horses & Colts.

PRICE—Twenty five Cents

THE changes of weather and season with the changes of use and feed, have a very great effect upon the blood and sanguious fluids of Horses At these changes, they require an assistant to nature to throw off any disorder of the fluids of the body that may have been imbibed and which, if not attended to will result in the Yellow Water Heaves Colic &c all of which will be prevented by giving one or two of these Powders, Spring or Fall and will at any time cure where any symptoms of disease appear If used in time they purify the blood remove all inflammation and fever, loosen the skin clean the water, and invigorate the whole body, enabling the animal to do more work with the same feed

The action of these powders is directly upon the secretive glands, and therefore all diseases arising from or producing a bad state of the blood are speedily cured by them Also colds and sore throat of any kind are cured by one or two of these powders if given according to directions

In all cases of Horse Distemper, they should be given at the first symptom to prevent fevers and in the last stage to carry off all humors of the blood and to restore a healthy action to the glands of the throat

We the subscribers, hereby certify that we have used Miller's Condition Powders for Horses and Colts prepared by T C Butler, Druggist Derby Line Vt. and think them the best Powders for Horses and Colts that are of second don that we have ever used We would recommend them to Farmers Stage Companies, Stablemen and others dealing in or keeping Horses and Colts

They will clean the Worms and Bots out of a Horse's stomach, and give him a good appetite for his feed, and a good coat

BOSTON,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years continuous to secure Patents in the United States also in Great Britain France, and other foreign countries Caveats Specifications Assignments and all Papers or Drawings for Patents executed on liberal terms and with despatch Research made into American or foreign works to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same—Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to any which can be offered them elsewhere The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE, than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY he would add that he has abundant reason to believe and can prove that at no other office of the kind are the charges for profess onal services so moderate The immense practice of the subscriber, during twenty years past has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents These besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works and full accounts of Patents granted in the United States and Europe render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors

TESTIMONIALS

During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents R H Eddy Esq of Boston did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor for procuring patents and there were few if any persons acting in that capacity who had so large a business before the Patent Office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill fidelity and success I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States and have not the least hesitancy in saying to those who cannot employ a person of the first competency and standing at the seat of the Government, that they cannot employ one capable of putting their application in a fairer condition for them to obtain an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office
